

BRAND GUIDELINES

Note from the Director General

A brand is an extremely important asset, embodying an organisation's values and driving its development. A brand is more than just a logo- it is present in all forms of external and internal communication.

Indian Council of Medical Research's (ICMR) organisation identity manual is an integral component of its fundamental brand overhaul. Through the manual we will highlight ICMR as the apex body in India for the formulation, coordination and promotion of biomedical research.

This new organisation identity manual therefore, aims at achieving certain key objectives- to help give the ICMR brand a strong, distinctive identity and create a 'brand territory' that supports its direction to ensure that this identity is consistent across the country and in every institute of ICMR. This will create brand ICMR's active presence in the minds of its stakeholders- inside and outside.

This manual will also aim to strengthen, simplify and modernize communication, create an image of a dynamic, deep rooted yet contemporary brand and ensure that the messages are incisive and can be quickly assimilated by decision-makers. It will therefore be absolutely imperative that everyone involved in ICMR's communication adheres to this identity manual so that we can effectively contribute to the development of ICMR brand in all our outreach and brand building activities.

Chapter 1: LOGO

A. Architecture

Standalone mark

The logo of the Indian Council of Medical Research shows an emblem symbolising the need for research and can be summed up as- examining or carrying out researches is a way of wishing wellness. Different versions of the emblem mark have been used by the council and partners for many years and this version presented below has been created for consistent use across all communications.

Chapter 1: LOGO

A. Architecture

Mark with logotype

Our standard logo lockup consists of the emblem mark and the typeface. These are symbolic of the values and philosophy ICMR stands for and therefore, must never be tampered with in any manner. The logo lockup is central to the council for any medium of communication and must be implemented consistently across all applications. The logotype has been designed to complement the emblem and ensure better readability in smaller sizes.

C. Usage

Clear space

In order to ensure that the logo is impactful and legible across all applications, there is a minimum clear space area that is to be left around the mark. No other competing text, images or graphic elements may infringe upon it. This distance is calculated from the size of the letter 'c' in the logotype and thus, will vary according to the size at which the mark is used.

Chapter 1: LOGO

C. Usage

Minimum size

The logo must not be reproduced any smaller than 5.5 cm width to ensure legibility. There is no maximum size restriction for the logo, although the clear space requirements must always be applied. In general, the logo must always be sized in a considered and appropriate fashion.
